

Pass zone recognition drill is used to teach your basic coverage alignments.

Depending upon the coverage that you teach have your secondary drop into their designated zone coverage called.

Secondary players must learn and understand their zone responsibilities.